

Interview with a Chinese patient at Santa María Clinic

*April 09, 2020
Santa María Clínica*

A Chinese national patient, infected with the Covid-19 virus, who was admitted to the Santa María Clinic in April this year, needed to communicate with the doctors in charge, and in turn, the doctors had to inform his family in China about the patient's situation.

Thanks to MundoChile's support with a Chinese-Spanish interpreter designated for this purpose, who worked remotely, smooth and efficient communication was achieved.

This type of remote interpretation is increasingly frequent in these times of physical distance, and MundoChile is present to continue supporting its clients in the different languages and modalities required.
